A B O U T

Erin currently lives in Boston, Massachusetts and is excited to be part of the Nfinity Family. With a Master's degree in Sport Psychology from Georgia Southern University, Erin's goal is to help cheerleaders reach their peak performance. After graduating, Erin returned home where she now coaches cheerleading at her alma mater, Bridgewater State University. Erin loves all things Nfinity and is excited to provide New England athletes with high-performing products to enhance their performance!
